

CONVERSE and JEWELS

EPISODE 2: To Shoe or Not To Shoe

Parklands Secondary students Converse and Jewels had been looking forward to the school holidays all term. They had been saving their money and planned a full day of shopping down at the Plaza...

Now Converse was really keen to make sure he not only had great looking shoes, but that they met the standard set by Miss Grounds Parklands Uniform Policy (what an excellent student). Converse knew he didn't have any subjects in science, home ec and tech; however he did participate in sport like everyone else at school so Converse knew he needed to ensure his new sport shoes were supportive cross-trainers. Lastly Converse DID NOT want a repeat of last term when he was repeatedly required to complete long tedious write-outs in his break time because his shoes were not upper leather and Mr Cunningham ALWAYS noticed. This time, his shoes would be all upper leather!! No more write-outs!!

Jewels was equally keen to get pretty shoes, but since she did biology, home ec and tech subjects, she wanted to be extra careful that her toes were safe. Jewels was looking specifically for FULL upper leather academic shoes with no mesh.

Browsing the shops Jewels and Converse found several great options which would be suitable for school and others which would certainly NOT be suitable for school.

Before heading to the shops Jewels and Converse read through the school uniform policy (on the school website).

Then using the Groundsy Approval Rating they headed out to the shops to see what they could find.
