

Jewels: Hair Care

Parklands
LOVES these hairstyles!!

There once was a girl named Jewels,
Who wanted to follow the rules;
But when it came to doing her hair
She started to despair.

She wanted it to look great
Without getting to school late;
But she couldn't choose a style
Which would stay in fashion for a while.

Asking RTC for advice
They told her about head lice.
Tying her hair up will stop the spread
From someone else's head.

If she wanted a colour change
Jewels learned there was a range,
Natural was the best way to go
Or subtle streaks that will hardly show.

As long as the fringe was off her face,
And the sides were secured in place,
If the coloured bands were red or blue,
She learned that Miss Grounds would not argue.

BUT...

If she wore it out,
Shook it all about,
Let her fringe hang low,
Or got bright streaks to show.

If she dyed it blue,
Or stuck it up with lots of goo,
It might end in tears,
A sum total of all her fears...

A WRITE-OUT...
A PLAN ...
EXTERNAL SUSPENSION...
And Then...

A lecture or two,
A Hullabaloo,
A quick fix that looks bad,
And she'd be left feeling very sad.

So Jewels listened to the RTC,
Got a trim and dyed it subtly,
Looking fab she wore a braid;
Of Miss Grounds, Jewels was not afraid.

The young ladies of Parklands
are looking fabulous!
